National Science Day 2025

-Shruthi M,BA [4th sem]

National Science Day 2025 was celebrated with great enthusiasm on 28th February 2025 at Hasiru Bhavana, organized by the IIC, Scientia, and SWAN. The event witnessed active student participation, focusing on creativity, scientific thinking, and environmental awareness.

The celebration featured a variety of engaging activities such as collage-making, pencil sketching, and model exhibitions, all highlighting the relevance of science in daily life and encouraging innovative approaches.

A key highlight was the "Trash to Treasure" event, where students transformed waste materials into innovative and functional models, promoting sustainability and efficient use of resources.

These activities helped students enhance their problem-solving abilities, curiosity, and understanding the role of science in shaping a better future. The event successfully blended artistic expression with scientific inquiry, reinforcing the vital connection between science, society, and sustainability.

Three-Day Workshop on Adobe

The Department of Computer Science, in association with IQAC and IIC, organized a three-day workshop on Adobe Technologies from 25th to 28th February 2025. The workshop was conducted by the Agastya International Foundation. The workshop aimed to enhance students' proficiency in Adobe tools and foster creativity in digital design and multimedia applications.

Over the three days, participants received hands-on training in various Adobe technologies, gaining valuable insights into their practical applications in fields such as graphic design, animation, and video editing.

The workshop witnessed enthusiastic participation, equipping students with industry-relevant skills and promoting innovative thinking. This initiative reflected the department's commitment to bridge the gap between academic learning and professional expertise, preparing students for the evolving demands of the digital world.

How to Take Effective Notes During a Lecture

Taking notes during a lecture is an essential skill for students to master. Good note-taking habits can help you stay focused, retain information, and study more efficiently. Here's a step-by-step guide on how to take effective notes during a lecture:

Before the lecture

1. Prepare Your Materials: Bring a notebook, pen, and any other necessary materials to the lecture.
2. Review Previous Notes: Quickly review your previous notes on the topic to refresh your memory.
3. Develop a Note-Taking System: Choose a note-taking method that works for you, such as the Linear Method or Mind Mapping.

During the Lecture

1. Listen Actively: Pay attention to the lecturer and try to understand the main ideas.
2. Focus on Key Points: Identify the key points and concepts, and write them down in your notebook.
3. Use Headings and Subheadings: Organize your notes using headings and subheadings to help you review and study later.
4. Use Symbols and Abbreviations: Develop your own set of symbols and abbreviations to represent common concepts and ideas.
